

Cosmology Worksheet

Prepared by Emerging Ecology

Form updated: June 10, 2015

How to write a personal “functional cosmology” using this worksheet (try to keep your work to a single page).

1. Choose a starting phrase from the suggestions below, or make up your own. Then describe the starting of everything by filling in the space provided below.
2. Describe some of the initial happenings, adventures, changes in the space after “and then”.
3. Then tell about some of the other things that happened.
4. Then, list the implications of this story for people like you today.
5. Finally, put your name and today’s date at the bottom so you and others will know who did this when.
6. Share your wisdom with friends and pay attention to how your perspectives affect your actions.

Long before, long before ...

or

In the beginning

Or

Long, long ago ...

... And then ...

... And after that ...

... And so for me today
